G'wood road sign thieves must shinny the greasy pole

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Anyone thinking of slinking out at night to steal one of Greenwood's more notable road signs might want to consider taking along a change of clothes.

With signs for Alcohol Mary, Sheepskin Bog and Gore roads disappearing almost as fast as the road crew can put them up, road foreman Alan Seames has come up with a new technique to thwart would-be thieves — grease.

Applied liberally to the posts holding up the signs, the grease not only makes the poles harder to climb, it also makes for quite a mess when the thieves sit back down in their own vehicle.

The sign-stealing problem is a nuisance in many towns but seems to be particularly acute in Greenwood.

Seames estimates that the "Alcohol Mary Road" sign has been stolen at least a dozen times in the 18 years he's been on the job.

Putting the sign higher up doesn't appear to help much. At one point thieves cut down a 25-foot-tall tree to get at the sign, he said.

And it's not just the signs on roads with colorful names that are disappearing, he told the town selectmen Monday.

Recently thieves have even taken the signs warning motorists of road construction ahead.

In all, he said: "We can't keep enough signs in stock. They steal them as fast as we put them up."

On average a stolen sign, along with its bracket and post, will cost the town about $50 to replace, he said.

To help reduce the cost he is also looking into joining towns like Norway and South Paris in a cooperative arrangement to produce the signs locally.

He also suggested the selectmen consider asking residents at Town Meeting if they are willing to consider changing the name of Alcohol Mary Road to something less attractive to thieves.

But both Seames and Town Manager and Road Commissioner Carol Whitman conceded that even if the town goes along with a lower-proof name for Alcohol Mary Road,

Milfoil has now been found in Shagg Pond

By ALISON ALOISIO

Another area lake has a confirmed case of milfoil, and people putting their boats in its waters are being warned again to check them for the invasive plant.

The milfoil in Woodstock's Shagg Pond covers about a half acre, and "has probably been there quite a while," according to Jim Chandler, a consultant to area lakes associations.

The primary infested area is on the west side of the 64-four-acre pond, not far from the public boat landing, said Chandler. The pond is near the Sumner town line.

The plant, variable leaf milfoil, is considered invasive. It can clog waterways and interfere with boating, swimming and fishing.

It was found last year in Lake Christopher, also in Woodstock.

Chandler said that in cooperation with the pond's Lake Association, he has applied for a "pulling permit" from the Department of Environmental Protection. The permit would allow the physical removal of the plant from the smaller areas of infestation.

The permit also asks permission to place a screen on the pond's outlet, the west branch of the Nezinscot River, to protect the river.

In addition, the group seeks permission to place enclosures around the larger areas where the milfoil is growing, and place benthic mats on the bottom of the pond to smother the weed. The plant has spread too much to be controlled simply by pulling, Chandler said.

He said he hopes to start steps to remove and contain the plant within the next week or so.

"People need to be careful going in and out of the pond. They should inspect boats, fishing gear and trolling motors," he said.

Chandler said he has found plant fragments all over the shores of the pond, which

'Lest We Forget'

Richard Pelletier's Amish carriage, 'Remembering All That,' was one of many floats honoring American service men and women past and present in Saturday's parade at Andover's Olde Home Days. First place in the float parade went to the Mills family's entry, 'We Honor Those Who Served,' second place to the Farrington family's 'Across the World: Lest We Forget.' Other winners were Cox, Perham, Acres and Cummings families. (Photo: Daniels)

State has concerns regarding Newry Comp Plan

By ALISON ALOISIO

In a recent review of Newry's new Comprehensive Plan, the State Planning Office said the town plan needs to address two water-quality issues: the possible environmental effects of withdrawing water for snowmaking from the Sunday River watershed, and the protection of Chapman Brook, Bethel's source of drinking water.

But John Maloney of AVCOG, who advised the town on its plan, questions the SPO finding.

At the annual Town Meeting in March, Newry voters approved the updated Comprehensive Plan. The State Planning Office has since reviewed it, and late last month sent its comments and recommendations to selectmen.

The review generally praises the plan, especially sections that deal, for example, with limiting residential development in "critical rural areas"; addressing the treatment of resort areas; maintaining large blocks of un-port, in order to be considered consistent with the state's Planning and Land Use Regulation Act.

Maloney said state law requires that within 24 months and surface water resources in the Sunday River watershed from the impact of anticipated water withdrawals; identifying the size of the projected gap between the supply and demand for work force housing, and strengthening the regional strategy to address that gap; clarifying the strategy intended to protect important natural resources; and strengthening strategies to monitor and manage development in critical rural areas.

DEP: "Degradation"

Frank Hample of the SPO said the plan provides inadequate protection of the quantity of ground and surface water.

In the late 1990s, the Department of Environmental Protection did biological monitoring of the Sunday fragmented commercial forest land and areas and standards critical to protect groundwater, soil capacity, steep slopes and scenic locations.

The SPO went on to identify four areas of the plan that need "additional attention," in the words of the reof the date a Comprehensive Plan is adopted, it must be found consistent, and any town zoning ordinances must also be consistent with the plan.

The four areas cited by the SPO that need attention include: clarifying the strategy intended to protect ground

W'stock tax rate jumps

By ALISON ALOISIO

Woodstock selectmen Tuesday reluctantly raised the tax rate to 15.3 mills, up 1.2 mills from last year.

That will be an increase of about $100 in taxes on an average home, they said.

The hike is attributed to several factors: a drop in the amount taken by the town from savings to reduce taxes; an increase in school and county taxes; and the unexpected inability to increase property valuations this year.

The previous tax rate of 14.1 mills represented the end of several years of using large amounts from savings to reduce the rate.

"We almost had a 'false rate' because we used so much savings in the past," said Vern Maxfield, town manager.

He said for the past several years, the town was able to apply between $400,000 and $420,000 to reduce taxes. This year, that figure is $380,000.

A 90 percent valuation of town property is also contributing to the mill increase. The town had expected to be able to adjust individual property valuations upward by the simple application of a computer program. But Woodstock's assessing agent does not have time to complete that process for this year.

As a result, valuations are at 90 percent instead of 100, generating a higher mill rate.

"We'll have to pick the values up next year," said Maxfield.

He said Woodstock could hold a special Town Meeting

PLAN FOR NEW COMMUNITY CENTER FALTERS

Woodstock's old fire station will go back out to bid, following a vote Tuesday by selectmen. There were no bids submitted in June at the $20,000 price that had been set. A group of citizens then expressed interest in purchasing the building for possible community use. But that plan has progressed no further, Town Manager Vern Maxfield said. The station will be put back out to bid at the original bid price.

CAPISH — NEEDED AND WANTED

To the Editor:

I am writing this day to express my deep sorrow. I find it very hard to believe that our town's Planning Board, selectmen, town manager and the Appeals Board, and all of the rest, have tried so hard to stop the CAPISH project from existing. Darlene Corriveau completed three letters of completion. Every time she did all that was asked of her (not anyone else), the Bethel planning board would come up with more nitpicking requests. I am appalled at the way Darlene was treated at these meetings. After reading the minutes of the meeting, given out at 19 planning board meetings over two and one-half years (they are held every two weeks), "someone" made it look as if Darlene was not even there.

The folks out there have no idea how hard this wonderful, hard-working developer tried (and is still trying) to get the project up and running. It should only have taken about three to six weeks to get the CAPISH project approved. That is how long it took for most other developers. Most were given the go ahead within four weeks.

So tell me please, why our Planning Board (planning for who?) tried to stop a development that is going to help so many people. Giving jobs to many of our people. The CAPISH project will have respite care for anyone who needs it. It will provide food for whoever needs it and a safe and loving atmosphere for whoever comes, whether it be to work or be looked after for four to eight hours or to cook or whatever.

The CAPISH project is needed and wanted by many in the Bethel area.

MOLLYCKETT BLUES

To the Editor:

Every year the people of Bethel look forward to Mollyckett Day, with the parade, booths, races and the atmosphere of fun throughout the day. But I am disappointed by the coverage of the Bethel Citizen. It seems that they gave more attention to the antique cars, which in my opinion weren't that good of a show, and the motorcyclists, that were a little noisy. A mention was made of the parade and that was all. I feel that they should have made mention of the second- and third-place winners, also. I don't even know who got third place, but I do know about second place. It was for Peterson's Pet Stop. I know them personally and I know how hard they worked to put together a float to help bring recognition and financial growth to Bethel.

Come on, Bethel Citizen, give the people of Bethel the recognition they so richly deserve.

Bob Schuesler

(Reply: The first, second and third place float parade winners, as well as an honorable mention, were listed with the other Mollyckett Day results on page 10 of our July 24 edition. —MRD)

HE SMILED DOWN ON SKUNK RUN

To the Editor:

The first annual Skunk Run in memory of Sandon A. Morgan (a.k.a. "Skunk") took place on Saturday, July 26. All proceeds will go to the Sandon A. Morgan Scholarship Fund for Telstar students.

We wanted to let others know how well the motorcycle run, pig roast and dance were. The sights on the ride were absolutely beautiful, the weather was terrific, food was awesome, and the dance was very enjoyable. We could feel Sandon smiling down on all of us that day. Several skunks were sighted and smelled along the run.

Sandon would be so proud of his dad, Sheldon, mom, Kathy, wife, Missy, and other family and friends who put this event together in his honor and memory. Lots of love and energy went into the planning of this event to benefit Telstar students and remember a terrific young man who is sadly missed by so many.

When the second annual Skunk Run takes place be sure to join in this fun and memorable event honoring our special friend, Sandon.

OUR DIVERSITY IS AN IMPORTANT ASSET

To the Editor:

This is a letter of support for our colleague. Last week's letter, "Steamed Over Junk," held her and her husband's house, yard and gardens up to ridicule.

As our community struggles with the change from manufacturing, wood products, and farming, to tourism and recreation, we are best served by directing our energies toward the issues of change and town planning, and not individuals. We are more than a beautiful landscape with attractive architecture. We are an unusual collection of rugged individuals, with a long history of support for private property rights.

The diversity of our community should be counted as an important asset. And, this couple holds up strong values of generosity, hard work, honesty and kindness. We want to call this to attention.

BASKETBALL BOTTLE DRIVE

To the Editor:

The 2003-2004 school year is just around the corner. This year's Telstar High School Boys' Basketball teams are coached by Alec Newell and David Berry. There is a bottle drive scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 9 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the SAD44 bus garage. All THS boys' basketball players are encouraged to attend. Moneys raised help support the summer hoop program, team shirts, Gold Rush Camp, etc. Bring a truckload of bottles. For further information, call Brenda Wight (824-2288) or Sheila Fleet (364-4925). If there are any members of the community who would like to have their bottles and cans picked up, let us know. Bottles and cans may be dropped off at the bus garage anytime during the bottle drive hours. Thank you in advance for supporting the Telstar High School Boys' Basketball teams.

A SMOOTHER RIDE FOR RESCUE—Evelyn Bean of Woodstock, a member of the Tri-Town Rescue Auxiliary, recently donated $5,000 to pave the driveway and parking area of the ambulance service's headquarters in West Paris. Norm St. Pierre, the rescue's chief of services, said the new surface will help keep both the vehicles and the building cleaner. Bean has also contributed funds for new carpeting and window blinds for the day room, as well as for the purchase of two deep fryers used by Tri-Town at its booth at West Paris Old Home Days. St. Pierre and paramedic Jason Ross are shown here in front of the headquarters.

has large areas of shallow habitat. The plant can grow to depths up to 15 feet. The deepest point in Shagg is about 65 feet, he said.

Lake Christopher update

In Lake Christopher, milfoil appears to be under control, said Chandler. It was confined to a cove area, and Chandler and other volunteers pulled the plants last summer.

This season, volunteers check the area every two weeks. Chandler said he has pulled about 20 to 30 plants each time.

Lakes associations in the area last year received a DEP

Variable leaf milfoil (from MDEP)

grant to do a survey of all ponds in the area. The Community Lakes Association of Woodstock/Greenwood is also using the funds to monitor Lake Christopher, inspect boats and provide general education on invasive plants.

Chandler said he has also checked Round, South, North, Indian and Twitchell ponds and found them free of the plant. He plans to check Hicks, Washburn, Mud and Songo ponds in the near future.

For more information on the milfoil issue, Chandler can be reached at Chandler 674-2963 or at chandler@megalink.net.

In our back yard

PT lumber redux

A couple of summers ago, we ran an article ("Deck Time") regarding the environmental, health and safety concerns associated with pressure-treated (PT) lumber. This edition of In Our Back Yard provides a refresher and an update.

In the past, many decks, play structures, landscaping timbers and other outdoor wood structures were made of pressure-treated lumber because of its rot-resistant qualities. Currently, most PT lumber is produced by cooking the wood under pressure in a solution of copper, chromium and arsenic (CCA) that soaks into the wood pores. The mixture of toxic heavy metals prevents organisms from attacking the wood and causing rot.

The problem is that rainwater leaches the arsenic from the treated wood. This leaching can lead to arsenic building up in soils below the wood structures. Also, an arsenic-containing coating can be left on the wood surface after a rain. This coating can be easily wiped from the wood surface and picked up on hands. Children with a lot of hand-to-mouth activity can ingest the arsenic.

Long-term exposure to arsenic can potentially cause cancer, and a short-term exposure to high levels of arsenic can result in stomach irritation, fatigue, a pins and needles sensation in hands and feet or skin irritation.

The Maine Legislature passed a law this year that, starting in September, prohibits retailers from purchasing arsenic-treated wood intended for residential use. In April 2004, retailers may no longer sell arsenic-treated wood for those purposes. (Paralleling this law is a voluntary agreement between the federal government and the wood preservative industry to phase out production of arsenic-treated lumber products for consumer use.) This schedule will allow industry to change recipes to use the new CCA alternatives.

Two of the leading alternatives are Ammoniacal Copper Quaternary (ACQ) and Copper Boron Azole (CBA). Both use an inorganic (copper) and organic fungicide to prevent rot. Copper may not be cancer-causing like arsenic, but it's still toxic and isn't too kind to earthworms and aquatic invertebrate species. As always, there are more creature-friendly alternatives, such as naturally rot-resistant cedar and hemlock or recycled plastic lumber.

If you currently have a PT structure, make sure that you treat it every one to two years with a penetrating oil-based or polyurethane sealant to prevent leaching of the arsenic. This sealant also acts as a barrier between dislodgeable arsenic and your family—especially on decks, entryways and playscapes where young children may be exposed.

If you decide to replace CCA-treated lumber with an alternative, it is legal to dispose of PT lumber as municipal waste, but don't put it on the burn pile at your solid waste transfer station. Sawdust, smoke and ash from CCA lumber contain arsenic, so wear gloves and a dust mask when sawing and never burn it.

As with any product that you buy, look for one that is safe for everyone's backyard.

Briefly

Jail time for Bryant Pond driver

PARIS—James Knightly, 20, of Woodstock was sentenced Monday to 16 months in jail for taking police on a high-speed chase in April. The chase seriously injured Bethel Police Chief Darren Tripp. Knightly was given a five-year sentence, with all but the 16 months suspended, and four years' probation. He pled guilty in Oxford County Superior Court to charges of reckless conduct and passing a roadblock. He received a 30-day concurrent sentence for operating after suspension of his driver's license. Knightly drove around three sets of spike mats to elude police in April. In driving around the third, he nearly struck Tripp, who injured his knee in diving out of the way. Knightly will also be required to undergo anger management counseling as part of his probation. He must also abstain from drinking and illegal drugs, undergo random testing for them, and take part in substance abuse counseling.

"Inside Edition" to cover wedding

BETHEL—A syndicated TV show that's not afraid of getting a little dirty will be covering a wedding at the transfer station. "Inside Edition" will record the nuptials of Dave Hart and Rockie Graham at the place where they met. Hart is now the dump manager and Graham is a part-time worker there. For their Labor Day wedding, the couple plans to be transported in a bucket loader driven by a town worker. The couple has invited the entire towns of Bethel, Hanover and Newry to join them on Sept. 1.

Special selectmen's meeting

NEWRY—Selectmen will hold a special meeting Monday, Aug. 11, at 4:15 p.m. at the Town Office. The board will discuss issues connected to the Skiway Access Road rebuilding project, according to Sylvia Gray, the town's administrative assistant.

Hearing on Merrifield Hill rebuild

WOODSTOCK—A public hearing on the rebuilding of Route 26 on Merrifield Hill in Bryant Pond is scheduled for Aug. 27. The Maine Department of Transportation will host the hearing beginning at 7 p.m., at the Town Office. A similar hearing took place in December to get citizen input, and plans incorporating some of that input are expected to be presented at the next hearing.

Vandalism in AT lot

GRAFTON—Vandals broke a car window and damaged a curb stop Saturday night at the Appalachian Trail head's newly-enlarged and paved parking lot. The stop had been thrown over a bank, according to park officials. The vandals also spun tires on new turf at the Moose Cave parking area.

Blood drive at Legion Hall

GREENWOOD—A Red Cross Blood Drive is scheduled for Monday, Aug. 18 at the American Legion Hall in Locke Mills. Hours will be from 1 to 7 p.m. For more information or an appointment, call (800) 482-0743.

Post cane to be presented

WOODSTOCK—Lucia Verrill, 98, a longtime resident of Bryant Pond, will receive the ceremonial Boston Post Cane Monday at 4 p.m. at the Ledgeview Living Center. The award has historically been presented to the oldest living person in Woodstock. Five generations will be present at the ceremony. Friends are also invited.

Book signing on Sockalexis

BETHEL—A book signing featuring Ed Rice, author of "Baseball's First Indian, Louis Sockalexis: Penobscot Legend, Cleveland Indian," will take place Saturday at Books 'N Things on Main Street. Sockalexis' brief major league career inspired the nickname of the Cleveland Indians. Rice's book includes game-by-game action, as well as colorful stories of 19th-century sportswriters. Rice, a graduate of Bangor High School, has worked in the past as a newspaper reporter and editor, and taught journalism and communications at the University of Maine and at Doane College in Nebraska.

New book available

BETHEL—Randall Probert has published his fifth book, titled "Mysteries at Matagamon Lake." It is a sequel to his first book, the historical novel "A Forgotten Legacy." Probert is a retired game warden. He served as a warden for 20 years before retiring from his last district—Matagamon. Probert's latest book is now available in bookstores.

Tourism better in July

AUGUSTA—Tourism rebounded in Maine in July, recovering from a slow start, according to Vaughn Stinson, executive director of the Maine Tourism Association. Cold, wet weather and the slow economy hurt business early in the summer. Stinson said there has been a trend toward late vacation bookings and shorter stays, as tourists look for bargains. Southern Maine has seen more business than coastal and northern regions, he said.

Ski deaths decline

DENVER—Accidental deaths at the nation's ski resorts declined last season despite a record number of skiers and snowboarders, the National Ski Areas Association said Friday. Thirty-seven skiers and snowboarders died last season, eight fewer than in 2001-2002 and 10 fewer than the year before. Fourteen were in Colorado, compared with a record 16 the year before. The industry reported 57.6 million snowrider visits last season. The previous record was 57.3 million in 2000-2001. A visit is the purchase and use of a lift ticket by a snowboarder or skier. Of the 37 deaths last season, 31 were male and six female.

Don't steal from this man

LIBERTY—A New Hampshire man is under arrest in Maine after a bizarre theft in which a shop owner jumped into the suspect's SUV and struggled for the steering wheel while the two rode around for 20 minutes. Robert Schwinger, 64, of Concord is charged with theft and kidnapping. It all started when police got a call of a tool theft at a shop. Owner Skip Brack said he spotted Schwinger outside his store Saturday afternoon, holding a box of tools with the store's price tags. When the man jumped into his SUV, Brack jumped into the passenger seat. He said they ran over lawns and driveways as they battled for the steering wheel. Eventually, the driver stopped, jumped out and threw the tools into some bushes. Store manager Tom Carter said the tools were worth about $200. "We don't take too kindly from being stolen from," he said.

From the Bethel Police Log:

Tuesday, July 29

At 8 p.m. Matthew E. Hamel, 18, was given a summons for criminal mischief in connection with a prior complaint.

Thursday, July 31

Police received a report that a red fox had killed all the chickens and turkeys at a village livestock farm.

Friday, Aug. 1

At 1:20 a.m. a subject was stopped on Route 2 for speeding. A license check showed his Vermont license was under suspension. John Satenstein, 25, of Richmond, Vt. was charged with operating after suspension.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log. It lists all cases of adults being arrested or issued a criminal summons in the 10 days prior to the newspaper's publication, but does not include all reports of other police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

PUBLIC HEARING

Pursuant to Title 28 MRSA 252 -- a notice is hereby given that a Public Hearing will be held on August 18, 2003 at the Bethel Town Office to consider a Liquor License application from Briar Lea Inn & Restaurant located on 150 Mayville Rd. Public comment will be heard at that time. Prior to the hearing date written comment may be issued to the Bethel Town Office.

Signs

the overall problem is not likely to disappear.

"It's something that will always go on," Whitman said.

Serious safety concern

While it's easy to consider road-sign theft to be little more than a prank — "a lot go to college," Whitman said — in an emergency situation the absence of a sign is no laughing matter.

"It's too dangerous," she said, especially now that accurate road signs are a key element in guiding emergency responders.

Seames noted that the signs are essential because not everyone who drives ambulances, fire trucks and police cars is necessarily familiar with the names of all rural roads.

Costly or not, he said, "We just have to keep buying (the signs). You've got to put them up."

to take more from savings. But given the reduced funds in that account, it would be inadvisable.

Tax bills are expected to go out next week, Maxfield said.

STILL, SOGGY and not going away any time soon. Boaters in the distance enjoy the placid waters of North Pond in Locke Mills, but the rest of us can look forward to at least a few more days of damp, gray weather — forecasters are predicting the current pattern will stay in place through at least the early part of next week. On the brighter side, the upcoming weekend should be a great one for mushroom hunters. (Photo by M. Daniels)

Comp plan

River and its tributary, Merrill Brook. The study determined that they still met their Class "A" designation. But the study also found, according to DEP comments attached to the SPO review, "some early stages of degradation."

DEP did not elaborate on what degradation had occurred. Biologist Jeff Varrichione, who made the comments, said Wednesday he did not have enough information to attribute the degradation to a particular cause.

Hample, however, noted a possible connection between the degradation and water withdrawal for snowmaking.

"Water withdrawals, among other impacts of land use development in the watershed, may be affecting overall base flows in the area," he wrote. Hample said the quantity of ground water can affect the quality of surface water.

He recommends the Comprehensive Plan include a strategy to protect the quantity, in addition to the quality. In other attached comments, DEP engineer Carol Fuller also recommends a strategy on water withdrawal, but does not specifically connect it to degradation.

Hample also suggests that "before the town allows a doubling of 'pillows' (a planning term for one bed) in the Sunday River watershed and sensitive tributaries, it should consider undertaking a hydrogeologic study to determine sustainable levels of extraction of ground water and surface waters that will not compromise habitat values."

In addition, Hample said the plan should include a strategy to protect Chapman Brook, the public water supply for Bethel. The Bethel Water District owns much of the brook's watershed.

AVCOG planner's view

In a written comment to selectmen on the SPO report,

Maloney said the review provides no scientific information that shows a link between bedrock ground water extraction and surface water quality.

And regarding the protection of Chapman Brook, Maloney said "the (Comprehensive Plan) committee's position was that the Bethel Water District had purchased the watershed to protect their own water supply, and thus the plan did not require any special policies and strategies concerning that watershed."

Maloney also questions the criticism by the SPO in the other three areas mentioned. He said the committee had discussed the employee housing issue with large employers in the area. The planners learned, he said, that the skiway had contractual agreements with Rumford landlords. Maloney noted that in 2000, Rumford had a rental vacancy rate twice the state average, so housing should be available.

Regarding natural resources, he said the plan offers "numerous" strategies for their protection, and cites the current ordinance that requires consideration of natural and scenic resources in the planning approval process.

As for addressing protection of the critical rural areas, Maloney questioned the SPO recommendation that the town describe what action it would take if more than 20 percent of development over the next five years takes place in such areas.

The plan has set a benchmark of 20 percent to trigger a "review" of the Comprehensive Plan's effectiveness. Maloney argues that a review provides enough direction to lead to action, if needed.

Maloney, who has advised many towns in the region regarding their comprehensive plans, said Monday he generally found the review "somewhat picky. They seemed to be searching for problems."

Selectmen are expected to consider soon what step to take next in addressing the review.

Sunday River surprised

Susan Duplessis, spokesman for Sunday River Ski Resort, said the skiway has never heard of the DEP study showing degradation in the river and brook.

"We are surprised to hear about this study for the first time. We have had no information provided to us that indicates our water withdrawal has negatively impacted the biological communities of the river. We are waiting to hear more about the study before commenting further."

Duplessis said DEP has always closely monitored water withdrawal for snowmaking.

(Note: The Citizen has attempted to obtain more details on the DEP report on degradation, but they were not available as of press time. Further information will be provided when it is available.)

(The reporter is married to Sunday River engineer Joe Aloisio.)

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston
The Phil House concert was well attended Sunday evening at the Hunts Corner Church. Proceeds will benefit the Youth Group.

Rose Dyer and her daughter have moved to Balsam Road, Bethel.

John and Edleen Winslow visited her mother in Oneida, N.Y., a week ago. Charlotte Prist, 85, passed away while they were visiting.

Olive Williams' daughter, Irene Standish of Hollywood, Fla., is spending several weeks visiting her at the Bethel House.

New residents at the Bethel House are Tad Davis and Rodney McAllister.

Kelsey Gamble, 12-year-old daughter of Buzz and Linda Gamble, is performing in the production of "Annie" at the Community Little Theatre in Auburn Aug. 8 through 17.

Arlene Lyon of Gray visited Becky Kendall several days last week.

Hi and Mary Lou Berry and Kay Eames attended the Eames Family Reunion at Everett Eames' Lodge on Umbagog Lake on Sunday.

Judy and Brad Barker hosted the Shylyn's Early Risers last Thursday at their cottage at Lake Pennesewassee in Norway. The group enjoyed lunch at Maurice's, a boat ride around the lake and lots of good catch-up conversation. Attending were Kathy Bennett, Mary Rosberg of Eliot, Gina Douglass, Rosabelle Tift, Sylvia Clanton, and Polly Davis.

On Sunday morning, Becky Kendall, Dottie Bartlett, Arlene Lyon, Bob and Polly Davis enjoyed breakfast at The Balsams. (Thanks, Ellie!)

Alberta Merrill, Davene Mitchell, Grace Douglass, Nancy Cummings and sister Ruth from Georgia, and Christine Bennett of Westbrook recently visited with their classmate Ruth Kichton in Old Orchard Beach and had a great day of reminiscing.

Howard Donahue has returned home after spending three days with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kichton in Old Orchard Beach.

Donna Algier and children, Michelle and Joey, returned home to Saco after spending a week at Chase's Camp at Littlefield's Beaches.

On Aug. 1, Oxford Hills Duplicate Bridge participated in a District 25 STAC game. This game was directed by Rosemarie Goodwin of Lewiston and computer generated hands were played. All ACBL players in New England who played this Friday morning received the same hands and all competed against each other as well as club competitions. The North-south club winners were: first, Marcella Allaire and Adele Bendes; second, Pete Cummings and Richard Allen, third, Eleanor Griffin and Don Hitch; and a tie for third and fourth were Nick Karamessinis and Jane Fournier and Don Johnson and Rowena Palmer. East-west first winners were Pam and Errol Libby; second, Paul Barber and Larry Holmes, third, Eric and Marilyn Sahlberg; and were Mil Owens and Beverly Pelletier. These winners received very special silver points.

Alder River Grange will not have a meeting on the 8th, instead it will be held on the 22nd. On Aug. 15, some Grange people will be at the hall to set up for the Yard Sale. If anybody has something that is no longer needed, call Stan Howe at 824-2291, Jim Lowe at 824-3107, or me at 824-3350, or drop it off at the hall in the evening on the 15th. There should be somebody there by 6 p.m.

Jack and Lucy Nordahl spent a week (July 27-Aug. 1) at Lilly Bay State Park near Moosehead Lake. The weather was lovely for the whole week.

Nancy Kimball had a BBQ at her home on Aug. 3. Scott and Wendy Annis, Daisy Coolidge, Esther Wilson, Grace Gibson, Paul and Charlotte Kimball, Mary Smith, Flossie and Andre Bernier, Velora Tuominen and her daughters Breanna and Robin, and Kelly and Ari were there. This was to celebrate her birthday.

The Hutchins/Remington/Harrington Family Reunion will be held on Aug. 17 at Arlene Harrington's home.

SESSIONS CELEBRATE 50TH

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sessions, Sr. celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on July 26 with a party given by their children at Pleasant River Campground in West Bethel. There were about 85 people helping them celebrate this occasion. Everyone enjoyed a chicken barbecue and a beautiful cake made by Sally Smith. The couple renewed their vows and gave each other new rings as daughter Bonita performed the ceremony with a poem read by daughter Cheryl. They received lots of nice gifts and a money tree that will help them with a trip to Branson, Mo., to celebrate, as they did on their 40th.

Warren and Nada were married in Bethel by the Rev. Pendleton on July 25, 1953. They have six children, 11 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren, with two more to be born soon.

In spite of Mother Nature not really being kind to us, Andover Olde Home Days was a huge success. The following are some of the results of different events. There will be more results in my next few columns.

The 2003 Garden Contest Winners: Flowers: first, Jere and Carole Melzar; second, Eileen Pew; third, Violet Swain. Flowers three years and younger: first, Jennifer Pitcher and Richard Gallant; second, Carole Holtzman; third, Marsha Burns. Vegetables: first, (tie) Lester Bailey and the Pew Family; second, Joe Simard, third, (tie) Shelly Downs and Chris Bailey. Flowers and Vegetables mixed: first, Dinah Cutting. We want to thank Judge Susan Herlihy, master gardener from Newry, for her help.

Photography Contest: Best of Show, grand prize and first place went to Walt Cunningham of Dixfield for his beautiful landscape. Grand prize winner for Portraits was Corinna Roy of Mexico. Grand prize winner for the Black and White Contest was Gale Hill of Turner. Grand prize for the Animal Contest was Foster Davis of East Andover. Grand prize winner for 11 to 16 Year Old Contest went to Carl Zurhorst of Andover. Grand prize winner for the 10 and Under Contest went to Eric Zurhorst of Andover. We had 179 entrants this year, five states and 15 towns were represented. The pictures were amazing and I don't know how Judge Angelo Katsos could decide. I want to thank Angelo for his hard work and dedication during this contest. Without him it wouldn't have happened. I was very pleased to be his assistant, and I saw firsthand what he goes through. I also want to thank Richard and Pat Kimball celebrated their anniversary on July 29 with a trip to Bailey's Island and a stop at Cook's Lobster House for lunch.

Have a nice week. God Bless. Hope there is a little sun by the time you get this.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

He may be a legend in his own time. A living legend, so to speak.

Bob Brown celebrated his 74th birthday on July 31. To commemorate the event, he went into the woods and cut a hitch, just like he does every day.

It has been vacation time for Hanover residents. One bunch went to Cathedral of the Pines in Eustis. Another bunch went to Cathedral of the Pines in Rindge, N.H. and another bunch went to Aziscoos Lake.

Norman and Barbara Ferguson were vacationing at Cape Breton in Nova Scotia when Norman became ill. They returned home to be near the doctor, and Norman says he feels fine now.

In animal news, Honey, the Baby Brook Lane pit bull found herself inside the house by herself. She wanted out. Finding an open window she pushed out the screen and jumped out. That might not be anything great except that it was a second floor window. Miraculously she was not injured and ran up all happy and tail wagging when her people came home.

Daren Worcester and his fiancée, Fran Berry, visited his parents, Bill and Gail Worcester, over the weekend. Brad Worcester came home for a few days during the week. Brad and his mother went blueberrying.

The Rumford Point Community Athletic Association remind all ballplayers, coaches, parents and alumni of the annual Field Day, Sunday, Aug. 10, starting at 10 a.m. at the Rumford Point Field on the Martin Road.

With season having wound down, it's time to remember and thank everyone who makes the program work. While we are sure to omit someone, special thanks to our volunteer umpires, Larry Bennett, Sal and Anthony Mazza and Jeremy Sterling, as well as all the parents and special friends who make sure the kids are at practice and games. The association also wants to thank the residents of the town of Hanover for their generous donation to the baseball program. We send special thanks to Jeff Sterling for the extra effort

The Way I See It
by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

One of the nicest things about summer is a library book sale. The sales are annual fundraisers with the proceeds helping to keep libraries afloat.

I think libraries are one of the greatest treasures that we have in this country. Unfortunately, I also think that they are terribly underfunded. I really wish I could designate a percentage of my taxes to go toward funding libraries, but that just isn't an option.

So, I will continue to support the local libraries by attending their annual book sales buying a lot of great books and some that I otherwise would never even look at.

One such book I purchased at the library is called "Shortcuts," Hot Tips on How to do Anything Better, Faster and Cheaper. The cover boasts such shortcut tips as how to open a Swiss bank account, the cheapest way to go to law school, the most all-around practical cure for a hangover and the cheapest way to prevent baldness.

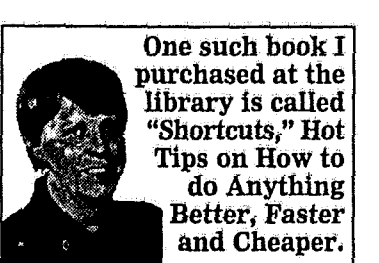

I never expect to be in the position to open a Swiss bank account and it's very unlikely that I will ever go to law school, cheaply or otherwise. I'm not much of a drinker so hangovers are not an issue and I don't think baldness is one of my top concerns. But I did find the book full of interesting and sometimes helpful tips on just about everything.

For example, did you know that the best time to enter a hospital is mid-week. The theory being that late week the staff and services are reduced and early in the week the staff is trying to catch up on things that were not done on the weekend. Based on that information, Wednesday is therefore the day you will get the most attention. So try to schedule any emergencies you may have on a Wednesday.

To deal with less serious problems that don't require a trip to the hospital, the book has a lot of ways to help you cope.

Bags under the eyes are a common problem especially as we age. The well to do opt for cosmetic surgery, but the average person certainly can't afford to go that route. Tea bags are one remedy that is said to improve the situation and this book offered another solution that may surprise you. A little dab of Preparation H rubbed into those dark baggy circles will help.

Apparently the sagging tissue under our eyes is not so different from tissue problems found elsewhere on our bodies. The book states that this remedy is a little known secret that doctors' wives have been keeping to themselves. Caution, however, is emphasized.

One such book I purchased at the library is called "Shortcuts," Hot Tips on How to do Anything Better, Faster and Cheaper.

sized to not get the ointment in the eyes and for the bags; a little dab will do you.

Here's an interesting tid bit on how to stop a sneeze. Gently rub that little fold between your nose and upper lip when you feel a sneeze coming on. This spot is what is known as a shiatsu point in acupressure. Rubbing this point acts on the nervous system to deactivate the sneeze impulse.

This may work for you, but it didn't work for me. I tried it and all I managed to do was to sneeze all over my fingers.

There were tips on some inexpensive ways on dealing with your hair too. For dandruff, the book recommends adding zinc to your shampoo. This might be a wonderful idea except I don't happen to have a supply of zinc in my cupboards and if I did. The book offered no indication of how much zinc to use. I think it's probably just as easy to spend the extra money and buy a good dandruff shampoo.

Should you decide to try the zinc you may also want to try a cheap conditioner as well. For this you beat one egg white and mix in a half of a mashed avocado and work into freshly shampooed hair. Then rinse with warm water. Do not use hot water because it will cook the egg white and avocado and you end up with a soufflé on your head.

Also recommended are lemon juice and honey to fade freckles and fennel sprinkled in warm water for an inexpensive yet effective mouthwash. I have my doubts on both ideas. I'm not sure there is much you can do about freckles and if you got caught in the rain you could turn into sweetened lemonade. As for the mouthwash, let me just say that fennel is also used in sausage.

The tip on keeping fingernails clean when working with dirt or grease is a pretty good one. Stick your fingernails in a bar of soap so the soap sticks under your nails. This way there won't be any room for the yucky stuff. When you wash up your hands will be pre-soaped.

An effective way to reduce flatulence, according to the book, is to put slices of ginger or some savory on the offending foods. I'm sure there are some people who have fresh ginger and savory on hand, but I'm not one of them. I either have to live with the situation or invest in a bottle of BEANO.

Another interesting tip is to cover your exposed skin with petroleum jelly when you paint. This way all the splatters will wipe right off because they will not adhere to the petroleum jelly.

Well, the way I see it, with a little Preparation H under my eyes, egg whites and avocados in my hair, lemon and honey on my freckles and a mouth smelling of fennel, I will be beautifying myself pretty darn cheaply. And who knows, with all the money I will save by following all the great tips in this book I just may be able to open one of those Swiss bank accounts.

His age will forever remain unknown. The committee wants to thank all who bravely participated. It's not easy being "hooked."

Among the many visitors who were in town this weekend it was nice to see my former classmate, Tom Learned.

Robert and Violet Swain of East Andover entertained their granddaughter, Hannah, her husband, Nathan, and their daughter, Hope Noble from Redlands, Calif., granddaughter, Courtney Swain from Wichita, Kan., Robert J. Swain and daughter, Lucie, from Lexington, Ky., and Rodney Swain and his son, Gregory, from Jericho, Vt.

More Olde Home Days news next week. Until then, see'ya.

Upton

by Eleanor LaComte
Mary and Larry Davis hosted a rehearsal dinner for Miami

Blake and Gary Shufelt in honor of their upcoming marriage. The lakeside setting was perfect except for an occasional rain shower. Good-natured guests ran for cover each time a sprinkle from above occurred. It was an enjoyable time for everyone.

Mary and Larry have had a very busy summer. Dexter Thompson visited with them for two weeks. Dexter hailed from Winter Park, Fla., but he did live in Upton at one time.

Shea Daley and Emma Davis were also guests of Mary and Larry for a week. There is always a good time at the Davis Camp.

Donna and Bob Folsom hosted a Silver Anniversary Party for Don and Janet Tanguay. There were fifty-six guests. There was a heavy influx of traffic on Route 26. All of the cars turned right on Mill Road heading for the party. (This is the first traffic jam ever in Upton.) The party was enjoyed by all. The weather cooperated, also.

Saturday, Aug. 2, was a very popular date for local fairs in neighboring towns.

Andover held its annual "Homecoming Day." The parade, bake sale, flower show and Diane Cutter's yard sale were attended by many Upton residents.

Errol, N.H., hosted the "annual Wildlife Refuge Festival." Over 500 people attended. Children and adults enjoyed the many planned events. There were raffles, wildlife lectures, Grandma's Attic Sale in the Congregational Church and many booths displaying private collections for sale. Chris Adams' display of her wonderful wildlife photos was a must. The Errol Library Ladies sold many books. Children enjoyed seeing the live Bard Owl and listening to the lectures, which were given by Audubon volunteers.

Cindy Williams Robash and Diane Williams Bouchard spent the weekend with Carolyn Taylor. They all received ribbons for their Andover Flower Show entries. These ladies, all plus 50 years, are tap dancers. Recently, they were featured in a dance revue at the Cumberland Civic Center.

Seventeen loons were spotted up the lake. (Where were they during the loon count?)

Groundhogs have been munching at the gardens on Mill Road. The nasty beasts ate all the dill at "pickle time." An inexcusable act.

Lionel and Jeanette Roy have a great bean crop that they have shared with neighbors.

Upton was not mentioned in the wedding invitations at the Transfer Station in Bethel. This is a low blow from which we may not recover. Several residents plan to crash the event and express their disappointment to the media.

We have been too busy for "Bird Watching" this week.

The Barred Owl, which was enjoyed by the children at the Wildlife Refuge Festival, is the "Bird of the Week."

Locke Mills

by Lorraine Larson
Locke Mills It has been a couple weeks since I last had a column in the paper. It has been hectic around here but nothing very newsworthy. Ralph and Ken Wakefield worked on the water situation but decided that a new pump was needed, so it was back to the old drawing board. I had my car checked on the computer system at the garage where Owen Brown works and basically it will mean a new transmission and radiator fan or something different for a car. Right now I can run it around town or to Bethel, but I am going looking for a used car as soon as possible. I cannot see putting the money into repairs on a 13-year-old car. Some person wanting some experience working on transmissions could probably have a usable car for a few years, as the body is still fairly good, but all the wear and tear on the car when Andy was ill took its toll. I can't complain. It was fairly decent transportation with not too much upkeep considering all the miles we put on it. It doesn't owe me anything. The problem will be trying to find time to get anywhere to look and trying to find one I can afford. Cars keep going up but my income doesn't, at least not enough to keep up with car prices.

Ralph and Lorene were kind enough to take me to Lewiston Saturday so we could attend the 50th wedding celebration of Andy's cousins, Fred and Ellie Peterson. It was nice to touch bases with the family again. I got a chance to get a peek at their latest grandchild, two-week-old Amelia Rubin, daughter of Sharon Peterson Rubin and husband Steve Rubin. Amelia's sister, Allie, just turned four this July, which hardly seems possible. It seems just yesterday that I attended Sharon's baby shower for her. Sharon's brother, Steve, (yes, both husband and brother are named Steve, and I know it is a big family; but so many in the family share names it gets confusing) had a son, Donald, the same month Allie was born and he is almost as big as his big brother, George, 10, and big sister Kathy, 7. When you only get to see them about once a year you notice the differences very quickly. Unfortunately, Uncle Fritz was unable to attend, as he is not well at all. I think he has done remarkably well for a man who will be 101 the 31st of August, but his heart is just wearing out. It is very hard on Norma, who will be 90 herself in October. And, in fact, shortly after I wrote this sentence I got a call from Fred that Uncle Fritz passed away about 11 o'clock this morning (Wednesday), so he didn't quite make 101.

I saw the obituary of Uncle Fritz in the Sun and I have never seen one but it was either wrong someplace or there were omissions. The family always seems to forget that his mother was married before and Uncle Fritz had a half brother and sister, Carl and Clausina Larson, otherwise Donald wouldn't have been his nephew. Oh, well, I didn't put down Donald's half-brothers either, mainly because I couldn't remember their names. I think they were George and Conrad, but I can't be sure because those names are family names and the names are scattered among the family.

Bryant Pond

by Alice Hoyt

Services at the Bryant Pond Baptist Church are

Sunday School and Adult Bible Fellowship at 9:15 a.m., morning service at 10:30 a.m., choir practice at 5:15 p.m. and evening service at 6 p.m. On Aug. 9, Men's Prayer Breakfast will be held at 7 a.m. in the Roland Lord room. On Aug. 10, morning speaker will be Pastor Gene Jarvif and at the evening service MaryAnn Lord will share her work as a missionary. Vacation Bible School will be held the week of Aug. 11 to 15, 6 to 8 p.m., for grades K-6.

Sympathy is extended to Brenda and Henry Brooks and family in the death of her brother.

On Friday evening, Ken and Alice Hoyt and Marybeth Hoover attended the closing program of summer camp at Baxter School of the Deaf, where Maggie Hoyt was in a play. They also enjoyed a pizza supper.

On Saturday night, Jim Hoyt, Maggie and Joseph and Charlene Cash were guests of Ken and Alice Hoyt and Beatrice Farnum. Joseph's 14th birthday was celebrated a few days early.

Beth Hoover and Marybeth worked at the CEF tent at Waterford Fair on Saturday.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will have a meeting and picnic on Thursday, Aug. 7, at the home of Gordan and Joan Morgan, Patch Mountain Road, Greenwood.

Judith Grover Tent 17 will meet on Monday, Aug. 11, at the Grange Hall. Remember to have your Tom Watt orders and money in by the end of August.

President Olive Risko and vice president Annella Burnham watched the Historical Society Museum recently. Two visitors came in. The

CORIAN® sends granite back to the Stone Age
As rocks go, granite is just great. But a rock can't do what CORIAN can.
With CORIAN, satiny, sensuous curves can sweep seamlessly into matching multiple sinks. Inlays can dance across counter tops in intricate patterns. Edge treatments can add dash and dazzle...mixing a touch of metal, wood or ceramic with the easy-to-clean, stain-resistant durability of CORIAN.
Route it. Carve it. Sandblast it. Even thermoform it into curves and waves. CORIAN, doesn't require regular professional maintenance like granite. And with a 10-year warranty from DuPont, you won't ever find yourself between a rock and a hard place.
Call today. We're just a stone's throw away. Let us show you the design freedom CORIAN can give you that granite can't.

society has a diamond and a tourmaline in its jewelry collection. Mary Billings redid the key for a large graduation photo in the museum. There were dozens of people in the photo so it was quite a job. Much thanks. Please remember to attend History Day on Aug. 16, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. There will be booths, food sale and museum tours. You should have a good time. Curator Larry Billings has given a print to the society. He also notes the museum is definitely established as far as its legacy for posterity is concerned. Its collection is completely adequate for the 21st century.

South Woodstock

by Andrea Wing

I'm finally back home and to reality. We all had a wonderful time in Las Vegas and were gone over a week. Sarah Lynch, Mrs. Maine USA 2003 (she'll represent Maine until May next year) was in the Mrs. USA pageant that was held two nights in the theater. She did a great job and looked as pretty as any of the contestants, but the title was won by Mrs. Ohio.

All the contestants did several different things, including an interview, modeling gowns, a skit all in red dresses to the song, "The Lady in Red," and also judged on bathing suits and costumes representing their state. Sarah made and modeled a lobster costume. Everything was very pretty and nice to watch. Robin Leach was the master of ceremony. During the days Sara had to be at rehearsals, etc. so my daughter, Kellie Record, granddaughter, Jessie Hart, and I went to several places of interest, such as Caesars Palace, Barbary Coast Casino and several others. We all stayed at Orleans Hotel. This hotel has over 1,400 rooms and is all decorated like the Mardi Gras in New Orleans in the casino section. We played the slot machines. Jessie did the best at winning on these. Sarah is the daughter of Kellie and Brad Record of South Paris and Ozzie and Joy Hart of Bethel. She attended Telstar High School and is married to Phil Lynch and has a four-year-old son, Zack. She now lives in Sabattus.

We're all glad to be home after the long plane ride. We had to spend an extra night when we became stranded in Salt Lake City. It was interesting seeing the salt flats as we came into the city from plane windows. I spent my birthday while I was in Vegas. Kellie and Jessie took me to lunch to celebrate. We were all pretty tired when we finally got back to Maine. The temperature was 108 degrees every day we were there. Even though it's been nice since I've returned to Maine, I've been freezing. Sara made many special friends who plan to keep in touch.

Captain Jim Miclon has done it again. He seems to be able to handle a difficult situation without much bloodshed. I'm glad he's in our area.

James and Evelyn Dunn, my sister and husband, have sold their home and rents in Campton, N.H. and are moving to Norway, where they have purchased a home. It will seem good to have them close by.

Sympathy goes out to the family and friends of Ashley Allen, who died recently. Richard Wing is all done watching the inmates who have been doing repair work on buildings in Woodstock. Richard put in a lot of hours, but says he really enjoyed doing it. He took the inmates back to jail each night after they were done for the day.

Happy birthday to those celebrating in August. They are: Travis Cox, Rachel Curtis, Laurene Appleby, Pat Lawrence, Beverly Stevens, Beverly Dayton, Kay Nickel, Gordon Dillingham, Burnie Rice, President Clinton, Brad Record, Sally Wing and my brother, Phelps. A special birthday to my sister-in-law, Claribel Poland, who will be 91 years young and still kicking it up.

West Paris

by Bertha DeHaas

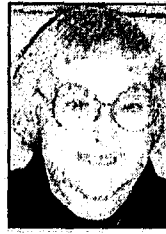

Hello, folks. Hope you had a chance to go over to North Waterford this past week for the "World's Fair." It is always the first fair in the area and has been a big part of our summer since most of us can remember.

This year, West Paris Grange 298 won first place, Franklin Grange 124 won second place, while Waterford Grange 479 and Rumford Grange 115 tied for third place. Congratulations, fellow grangers, on a job well done.

Oxford County Fair will be our next endeavor in September with Fryeburg Fair the first week in October.

It does not seem to be possible that July is over and August here already. We need to "make hay while the sun shines," also can and freeze what produce we can to get ready for the coming winter (which will be here before we know it). Hope, too, all your wood is cut and split so it is drying and seasoning properly. It is very dangerous to wait until the last minute and wind up burning green wood. It can cause chimney fires that can cause you to sustain the loss of your home.

West Paris

Early Friday morning I accompanied Myrtle Cadinelli to Sharon, Conn., for the weekend. The traffic coming into Maine was moving slowly in all lanes trying to get onto the turnpike. We were glad we were going in the opposite direction. Through Massachusetts and Connecticut there were several areas of construction. At one intersection everything was torn up and all signs removed, so we inquired of the policeman on duty as to our route. He pointed it out, but it turned out to be the wrong way, so we had to backtrack several miles. Our destination was to visit Myrtle's son and wife. Their home sits back away from the highway with trees all around. A large, friendly dog greets everyone as hens and roosters scratch around on the front lawn. They are friendly, too, and have names.

Two hens were sitting on eggs. Three eggs had tiny holes and we could hear peeping. One evening while they were being put to bed a chick was out of his shell but didn't look healthy and was cold, so it was taken into the house and placed in a heating pad on low. We all expected he would be gone by morning, but when we got up there was loud peeping in the kitchen and he appeared to be okay. Then a second one was cold and didn't look well, so he got the heating pad treatment, too. Then they were both taken back to the hen house. The mother was old, so they were placed in a nesting box with a bantam. She was more motherly. They are both doing well now.

Western Connecticut is very hilly with many sharp turns. The scenery was beautiful with all the mountains and deep valleys. Maine has lost a lot of its dairy farms, but not so there. Many acres are in fodder corn as well as several kinds of grains. Farmers everywhere were haying and rolling it into large, round bails. Nothing smells better than newly mowed hay.

Myrtle's family gathered Saturday to celebrate her oldest sister's 92nd birthday, so I got to meet a lot of her family. A chicken barbecue and several salads were served with gallons of iced tea. A very chocolate birthday cake was served with chocolate frosting and was topped with fresh raspberries that was the delight of every chocolate lover.

In the evening, I had a pleasant ride to Cannon to an auto show. The ride was in a 1935 Ford that moved along with the traffic. There were no seat belts, for everything was authentic. The engine and road noises were loud, but we did not mind. People waved, for they liked the old car. There were many vintage cars and everyone was comparing notes and friendly. We had ice cream at the show, but ate it before getting back into the Ford.

On Sunday, we got an early start so as to avoid the worst of the traffic. Again, the worst traffic was in the other lane.

Sunday, Aug. 10, the Rev. Robert Wolf will be the speaker at the West Summer Universalist Church. Forest Perkins will be the guest organist.

Myrna Lamb has been visiting relatives in South Paris and West Paris for the week.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson
Hi readers. I'll try and get the column out on time this week. I am feeling much better now. Sure hope it continues.

Joyce Ann Bray, Nicky, Missy, and Elliott Taylor, all from Dry Fork, Va., visited Joyce and Delbert McAllister for a week recently.

They tell me that Debbie is doing better now. She is home from the hospital.

Frances Grant and I attended the seniors' meal on Friday, July 25, at the North Waterford Fairgrounds. Thanks, Dr. Lawrence Murch and helpers. The meal was great. There must have been 100 people there. Before and after the meal, the Felt Band played their music. I love their music. And there was dancing. Dot Canwell whistled a few tunes beautifully. She whistles just like a bird. She has talent, and loves doing it. I like to watch the drummer. He loves doing that, too.

There were prizes drawn by the ticket number for 14 nice canes to be given out. Also prizes were given to: the oldest person there, Isabelle Rolfe; Eva Tripp for the most grandchildren; and Alma Douglas for living furthest away and also John Greenlaw from Florida. I believe it was Edie Burnham from Maine State Grange who brought the nice canes. It was really a good day all around.

Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19 members met for a memorial service in West Stoneham on July 23 at the grave of Warren Durgin, who was a pall-bearer of Abraham Lincoln. The members held a meeting afterward. I believe there were five members of Stoneham Tent, two from Bryant Pond Tent and three sons there. Light refreshments were served before the meeting.

On July 26, Frances Grant and I had a very enjoyable day. We were invited to attend a cookout hosted by Raymond Files. This was a reunion of the children and grandchildren, etc. of Thelma and John W. Files. It was also a birthday party for Frances. Those attending were Raymond Files and Kim Waterhouse, who hosted the party, Judy Parker, Richard Hillman, Brenda and Dennis Donahue, Diane Bowden, Wendy Lord, Susie and Peter Files, Robyn Beckner, Raymond Files Jr. and Melissa, Mindy Files, Mandy Files, Emma Files, Richard and Debra Herrick, Tiah Files, Michael Giasson, Amanda, John Pizoon, John Files and Christina, Lee Ann Files, Cindy Meserve and Travis Tyler and Jenna, Billie and Shane Nelson, Anthony, young John Files, Frances Grant and Eleanor Nelson. He did a super job of getting everybody together and everything was just great. Thanks, Raymond and Kim and everyone there. If I have missed any names, please let me know and I will put them in next week.

We were sorry to learn of the death of Barry Andrews. Our thoughts and prayers are with his family and friends. We shall miss him. He sawed wood for Albert and Chet Adams and others. He was a good person.

Greenwood City

by Rena Curtis

Another week has gone by, not much going on around here.

Betty Curtis went camping with her mother and sisters for their annual girls' outing.

Marie and Albert Curtis are on vacation. They've gone up to the Allagash and touring around.

Glenn and Lillian Strait of Pownal visited me Sunday and also Fred Curtis and his girls, Akayla and Felecia, then William Curtis and Spencer Curtis were here. Spencer Curtis and Jason Curtis visited their aunt and uncle, Albert III and Roberta Curtis, for a few days.

Stephen Cogswell of Freeport has been visiting me this week. We went to Rumford one day and have been to Norway shopping.

Carl Curtis was home for the weekend.

Quote for the week: "A smart wife is one who has the pork chops ready when her husband comes home from a fishing trip."

That's it for this week. Have a safe and happy time.

Albany

by Dana & Sheila Dyke

Greetings from Albany Township. Ah, August. The summer is starting to wind down, school shopping will begin soon, kids will start to get cranky thinking of the return to school, parents will ponder the start of cooler weather. Of course, right now, it doesn't look very summery out at all, with the gloomy, gray skies and dampness. Too bad that we hear the weather is going to be less than sunny this week.

The concert put on by Phil House Sunday evening was absolutely fabulous. Mr. House's playing was mesmerizing. His fingers danced lightly over the keys, producing sweet melodies, uplifting hymns, and exhilarating ragtime and jazz. The speed with which he played left the keys "smoking." And the voice of his accompanist, Cathy Haley, was one of the finest vocals heard in a long while. The first half of the concert was Phil House playing solo or playing along with Cathy's clear alto. Then there was an intermission, followed by a sing-a-long and requests. After a request of "Go Tell it on the Mountain" made by Samantha Corriveau, Cathy then invited the little girl up on stage to sing "Jesus Loves Me" with her. Sammy looked nervous, but gamely sang along into the microphone. She did an awesome job. If you have never seen Mr. House in concert, you really should. And, if you have well, you don't need us to tell you that it is well worth the time to see him again.

We have seen the work crews out bright (well, gray, wet and gloomy) and early these past few mornings on the Hunts Corner Road and Vernon Street. Hopefully, this means that many of those really bad, rough spots in both roads are going to be smoothed out a bit. There are a few areas that really make it interesting riding the bikes over. It may sound as though we're griping, but, we're not. The Hatstat crew has done wonderfully with the roads, especially in the winter during and after snow storms. It just wouldn't hurt our feelings if they smoothed out some of the rough spots.

A prayer meeting and Bible study is held on Wednesday evenings starting at 6:30 at the church. All are welcome from the Albany area and beyond. Prayer requests are always welcome, and any added voices, hearts and souls to the table would be appreciated to help out ourselves, each other or others smooth out the rough spots on their roads. Sometimes, it's difficult to get into one of these meetings — maybe you're not a Christian, or religious person by any means, maybe you're not comfortable with praying in a group with others, or maybe a hundred other reasons why you may forgo attending. One of these meetings. There is no judgment at this table—we are all sinners—only prayer requests and then voices lifted up to offer each request. You don't even have to add your voice; just an added presence will be enough. Bible study follows afterward. This is an adult prayer meeting/Bible study, and there is no one available for childcare.

Best wishes for a happy, safe and healthy week. God Bless.

From the Bethel Rotary Club

Last week in Rotary, Dutch Dresser shared with us the next substantial move in computers. He reminded us that in 1991 Gould Academy connected to the www before much of the world. Our community and Gould has been watching the computer and networking world and is a leader in making such substantial computer moves.

This next substantial move was actually adopted some three years ago in the world of "open source movement." The definition of source means computer language or source code. It's those proprietary programs that are in use when your computer is turned on but you can't see and you can't see how they are written. These programs are the operating systems or the heart of the machine; for example, most of us have a PC windows version.

Linux is an open source operating system. It's a free system and it's beginning to gain some market share. It's available to see and available to the world to change on the Web. It is becoming increasingly regarded. Further, there are two types of computers: the servers, which you don't see, and the desktops, which you do see. On the server side of things, there has been a Linux migration already; the desktop side is moving more slowly in the migration.

At Gould Academy, they decided to change their computer staff's mantra of "It's not sustainable" and they have done two things. First, they migrated their servers to this open source and it has become much easier to manage, and then they set up a Linux desktop system parallel to their current system two years ago. The Linux desktop system has had no complaints and no need for technicians.

What does all this mean? It means less ownership costs and staff being available to do other things like innovation instead of technical or maintenance work. This is a really big deal and the next substantial move in the computer world.

Dutch predicts that there will be a rapid movement to open source in servers throughout all industries and at a slower pace, there will be movement for the desktops, too — slower due to adults needing more time to get comfortable with the system.

Bon Voyage to Cynthia Moran-Laux as she leaves for Venezuela to participate with the Rotoplast program. Rotoplast (Rotary Plastic Surgery) is the volunteer Rotary International medical project that helps indigent children. The children undergo reconstructive facial surgery to correct cleft lips and palates.

The Rotary year begins its second month. The 2003-2004 Board of Directors includes: president, Dawna Hannan; president elect, Janet Black; vice president, Steve Wight; secretary, Anita Remington; treasurer, Craig Alford; sergeant at arms, Kathy Thrall; past president, Mike Liberti; Club Service chair, Dan Patee; Vocational Service chair, Pat Roma; Community Service chair, Michele Varuolo; Cynthia Moran-Laux, International Service chair.

The Rotary Club of Bethel meets Tuesdays at 7:30 a.m. at The Bethel Inn and Country Club.

Whitman Memorial Library

Welcome to a new column. I am Marta Clements, retired teacher, and a member of the board of trustees of the library in Bryant Pond. I want to try to write a column at least once a month to inform you of what is going on at our library.

Althea Hathaway is our librarian. The board of trustees include Frank Campbell, Valerie Billings, Patricia Thurlow, Stacey Millett and myself. Any one of us would like to hear from you with your comments, questions or suggestions concerning the library. At the present time we are open two days a week—Tuesday from 1:30 to 5 p.m. and Thursday from 1:30 to 7 p.m. The telephone number is 685-2505.

Special programs that are going on right now include a preschool story hour led by Valerie Billings. This activity takes place on Tuesday mornings at 10 a.m. and has been well attended. Thanks to a generous grant from the Oxford County Preschool Incentive Trust Awards, we have been able to purchase new books and craft activities as well as schedule an enrichment program. Walt Williams and Mrs. Moose will perform for us on Aug. 19, during the regular story hour time. This will be open to the public at no charge.

Another activity is led by Nadja Bolio, who is in charge of programs that are presented at 10 a.m. on the second Thursday of the month. We have a great variety of local talent who have given us their time and expertise. We have appreciated Nadja's work in organizing this program and all the speakers who have donated their time and talent. We will be taking a break for the month of August, but will start up the programs again in September, so be watching for our advertising.

In addition to buying new books on a regular basis, we are building our collection of videos and books on tape. We also would like input and suggestions of what you would like to see us order. At this writing, the newest J.K. Rowling book, "Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix," is checked out, but if you haven't read it, you will find it back soon. We have the complete series, if you missed any of them.

From the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

Don't miss the 23rd annual Sudbury Canada Days which will be held on Aug. 8, 9, and 10 at the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center. Attractions include Civil War re-enactors, history lecture, historical videos, horseshoe, croquet, and badminton tournaments, logging and farming exhibit, traditional craft demonstrations and exhibits, children's parade (theme this year "Famous Americans") and games, ice cream eating contest for kids, special exhibits, log driver's bean supper, a visit from Vice President and Mrs. Hannibal Hamlin, art show, hymn sing, and flower show. Further information may be gained from calling the society office at 824-3908 or (800) 824-2910.

WALT WILLIAMS AND MRS. MOOSE

Thanks to a generous grant from the Oxford County Preschool Enrichment Trust, the Whitman Memorial Library in Bryant Pond will be presenting an educational entertainment program for the participants in the summer reading program and story hour. This will also be open to the public at no charge.

Walt W. Williams and Mrs. Moose, New England's own children's musical artists, will be visiting the Whitman Memorial Library on Tuesday, Aug. 19, at 10 a.m. Walt and Mrs. Moose, who perform at libraries, schools, fairs and other events throughout New England, will share their original songs, dance and stories. Subjects include the oceans, New England wildlife, the seasons and much more. Some favorite songs are "Laughing it up at my Library," "Reading Really Rocks" and "Traveling Around the World in Maine."

A special part of the program will be Mrs. Moose sharing sign language for the song, "We're Off to See the Sea." All are invited to sign the song with Mrs. Moose and sing along with Walt. Tambourines and maracas will be available for those who would like to join in the fun. Kids will also love learning "The Mrs. Moose Shuffle" as well as the "Lobsta Crawl."

All are welcome to this fun and exciting evening.

entire handwritten record of Andover, Maine's Suter family from 1887 to 1937. In addition, Spidell has included hundreds of footnotes, several maps, over sixty old Pynellis and Andover related photographs, and lots of explanations to whet the interest of the reader. The society has this publication for sale at the Museum Shop.

The society also has an updated cookbook for sale. The last one was published in 1979. Several years in production, this edition is a product of the Museum Shop Committee members Grace McKivergan and Jan Todd. The cookbook has many of the favorite recipes from the older edition, plus lots of different ones from a wide variety of contributors. Also included are old-time household hints that still are useful today. It can be purchased at the society's Museum Shop, which is open each afternoon except Monday, 1 to 4 p.m. until Labor Day. The shop can also be accessed Tuesday through Friday, 10 to 12 a.m.

From the Mason McMillin Round Robin Bridge Club

Enjoy bridge? Looking for a little diversion during those long winter evenings? Join our bridge club. We are an informal and fun group with a flexible schedule of games between mid-September and the end of April. On average, each team plays a game every two weeks at the home of one or the other team member. Skill levels of our players vary from beginners to some crafty "semi-pros."

If you are interested in learning more, please phone Jan Todd at 824-3209. She can fill you in with details and/or sign you up. Please make contact no later than Sept. 1, because we plan to publish a schedule by Sept. 15.

MR. ZURHORST GOES TO WASHINGTON
Senator Susan Collins met last month with Erich Zurhorst, 9, of Andover, who won the state Tar Wars poster contest sponsored by the American Academy of Family Physicians. Erich's poster is now hanging in the receiving room of Sen. Collins' Washington, D.C. office. The annual national contest celebrates youth, creativity, and being tobacco-free.

THE NORTH DIVISION ALL STARS of the Andy Valley Baseball League recently finished as runners-up in the nine and under state championship tournament held in Harrison. The boys defeated Sacopee Valley (22-0), Maranacook (11-3) and Brunswick (13-0) handily before falling to state champs Messalonski (5-1) in the championship game. The Messalonski club, coached by Colby College coach Tom Dexter, will travel to Marlboro, Mass. to compete in the New England nine and under regional tournament. Front row (from left): coach Brad Clarke, Devin Vail (Bethel), Tyler Brown (Bethel), Danny Whitney (Bethel), Jordan Croteau (South Paris), Logah Sanborn (Norway), Hunter Chase (Woodstock), coach Scott Brown. Back: coach Rick Whitney, Kurt Morgan (Greenwood), Jeb Clarke (Bethel), Corey Howard (Bethel), Brandon Campbell (South Paris), Justin Berebe (South Paris), Anthony Dirego (Bethel), coach Pat Howard.

From the
Bethel Philatelic Club

The meeting was held on July 29 at the Robinson House. There were four of us who collect stamps in one format or another. Several brought duplicates and one person brought some stamp newspapers.

One person brought some covers (envelopes with cancellations) that were very interesting, as one had a Bethel Chamber of Commerce cachet and a May 25, 1938 cancellation.

The next meeting will be held on Aug. 28 at the Robinson House. Bring your duplicates, newspapers, covers and whatever else you would like to show or talk about. Happy stamp collecting.

From the
Oxford County Democrats

The August meeting of the Oxford County Democrats will be on Thursday, Aug. 21, at the Watford Town Office Building on Route 35 between North Watford and Watford Flat. The meeting will begin with a potluck supper at 5:30 p.m., followed by the meeting at 6:30. A speaker from CasinosNo will be included in the program. Representatives of the various Democratic presidential campaigns have been invited to attend. Those attending the supper are asked to bring a food item to share.

For information on activities of the Oxford County Democrats, contact Cathy Newell, 875-2116 or cathyn@megalink.net.

From the
Maine Veterans Home

It is less than two months until the annual Memory Walk takes place in the Oxford Hills area. This annual walk raises money to support the Maine Alzheimer's Association. All money raised in the walk stays in the state of Maine. The walk is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 27, and will commence at the Maine Veterans' Home on High Street in South Paris. Registration begins at 8 a.m. and the walk will begin at 9 a.m. The route is a four-mile walk.

Site chairperson, Ellie Newell of the Maine Veterans' Homes, explains the team concept this way: "Area businesses, families, clubs, civic organizations, school groups all can join in the walk by forming a team. The team can have as few as two walkers, or be as big as desired. The concept is that each team member seeks sponsors and pledges, building the team's contribution. The pledges are collected on the day of the walk and tallied for a grand total to be donated to the Alzheimer's Association. Some teams decide to have fundraisers prior to the walk to get a jump on their contribution.

Anyone interested in walking as a team or individual is encouraged to contact Ellie at the Maine Veterans' Homes, telephone 743-6300. "Come join us for a great Saturday morning," adds Newell.

From the
Finnish American Heritage Society

The annual picnic for the Finnish American Heritage Society will be held again at Hebron Pines Campground in Hebron on Sunday, Aug. 17. Open at 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., it will be held rain or shine. Inside will be a souvenir/gift table and a standing coffee and pulla table. Contribute to potluck, which will be ready at 12:30 p.m. or you can choose to bring your own picnic lunch. Grills available outside, bring charcoal and lawn chairs. A swimming pool will delight youngsters of all ages. For entertainment, Tim Bennett will do a karate demonstration and Carol "Papu" Reinholm will live our ears with her accordion music. There will be a door prize and a raffle drawing. Admission is $2 for 10 years and over, under 10, free.

Hebron Pines is on Route 124. From Auburn, take Route 121 to Mechanic Falls. From there take 124 north. From South Paris, take Route 119 to West Minot, then 124 (Buckfield Road).

THE BETHEL RED SOX (Major League team) came out off regular season in second place with a record of 10-5. They took third place in the playoffs and had nine out of 11 players selected for all-stars. Front row (from left): Sawyer Barter, Greg Kennagh, Lance Brown, Lucas Schandeleier, Bryce Walker; second: Ben Cross, Devon Brown, Jack Brink, Leo Buck, James Kimball, Frankie DeDuca; back: assistant coach Levi Brown, coach John Kimball, coach Donnie Walker.

If someone suddenly collapses, loses consciousness and stops breathing, WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

FACT:
Each year 220,000 Americans die of sudden cardiac arrest.

FACT:
The national survival rate for cardiac arrest is only 5-7 percent.

FACT:
CPR, when used effectively, can double a cardiac arrest victim's chance of survival.
